

Crazy Fact – Food Chain Size: UNKNOWN – still being discovered!

Teach your children how God created the entire food chain as we know it today in a matter of 6 days. To give your child a perspective of the creative genius of God Almighty – take them to the following websites that explain food-chains; how they work and one even has a small game where they try to create one. Please note these sites may or may not be Christian – rather they just have free resources available on the topic. When you come across a site that gives credit to another source other than God – it is an opportunity to re-enforce the Can't see / Don't see issue.

Have Fun with these sites – or have your child create their own food chain on a piece of paper.
